Missile

IAMX

So you came like a missile
Falling on my head with the black sky
Think you're giving but you're taking my life awayThen you came with your breeze blocks
Smashing up my face like a bus stop
Think you're giving but you're taking my life awayLike the drunk you convinced was sober
You keep me falling over
In the daylight
Think you're giving but you're taking my life awayWith the best of intentions
You tried to give an ocean directions
Think you're giving but you're taking my life awaySo you came like a missile
Leaving me the whole world in exile
Think you're giving but you're taking my life awayLike the drunk you convinced was sober
You keep me falling over
In the daylight
Think you're giving but you're taking my life away
Think you're giving but you're taking my life away
