Like You Love Me

Lucie Silvas

It's not every day you wake up
And admit who you really are
Most days it's easier to shut yourself up
And never look that farThis is me, I'm covered
What I hid behind the door
And everything she says angers
I'm apologizing forDo you see her when you see me?
Understand her insecurities?
And accept the part she plays in me?
Could you love her like you love me?
Like you love me, oh, like you love meI'd rather be who you think I am
See myself through your eyes
'Cause the mirror you use can't be too harsh
And I want it to tell me liesSo today I'll be brave and I'll face myself
Show you who I really am
'Cause wherever I go she follows me
Can you reach out for her hand?Do you see her when you see me?
Understand her insecurities?
Oh and accept the part she plays in me?
Could you love her like you love me?I'm not perfect but I try to be
Oh, could you really have the hold in me
Sometimes what you get isn't what you see
Could you believe in her, like you believe in me?Do you love herDo you see her when you see me?
Understand her insecurities
Oh and accept the part she plays in me?
Could you love herDo you see her when you see me?
Understand her insecurities
Oh and accept the part she plays in me
Could you love her like you love me?
Like you love me, oh, like you love me
Oh, like you love me
