Fences

Spitboy

Fences in a row, fences in a row
Why are they protecting in Rome?
If only the necessary silhouette
Unknown join a dis, dis, dissident
Carried away, hide them from the lies and discords
What's remembered not forgotten
Come roll the dice for me
Roll the dice for me
Hold on better, I'm not
Really on your own thinking this is fun
Feathers falling from gray
Fold them into pieces tied openly
Fences in a row, fences in a row
Why are they protecting in Rome?

You carried away
Thought I would have let you know
Oh no, did you miss, miss, miss it?
Familiar stare, would rather mess with me than get going?
She's been building up a castle
And I roll the dice for me
Hold on better, I'm not
Really on your own thinking this is fun
Feathers falling from gray
Fold them into pieces tied openly
Fences in a row, fences in a row
Why are they protecting in Rome?
Fences in a row, fences in a row
Why are they protecting in Rome?
