

Cup of Tea

I Was Totally Destroying It

In your sleep
The secrets that you keep come out
And so I steep them
In my cup of tea
'Cause you're my cup of tea
And it may burn my tongue, the flavor might be wrong
But I guess it's what I want
Yeah, stuck with what Iâ€™ve got

Let's suppose that I am over-thinking
How we are and how you sleep

You're not very sweet
No you're bitter and you're mean
But there's honey if I need
To stir in my cup of
You're in love with everyone but me
And in your history
You've made worse mistakes than just me

But let's suppose that I am over-thinking
How we are and how you sleep
Let's suppose that I am over-thinking
How we play and play

Let's suppose that I am over-thinking
How we are and how you sleep
Let's suppose that I am over-thinking
How we play and play for keeps
Let's suppose that I am understating
How we waded in too deep
