I Said Never Again (But Here We Are)

Rachel Stevens

One, two, three, fourI said no, no never

We don't go together

Oh, I really couldn't take anymore

Now it's two weeks later

I feel such a traitor

Oh, I let you in my back doorYou're the one who's creeping

Rough love's so deceiving

I said never again but here we are

I'm your current sweetness

You're my only weakness

I said never again but here we are Now, I don't rush in

I bite my lip and let you know

I really like the game you play

I'd be better off without you

But I can't live without you

No, am I ever gonna break awayYou're the one who's creeping

Rough love's so deceiving

I said never again but here we are

I'm your current sweetness

You're my only weakness

I said never again but here we are Yeah

I tried to run but I don't get too far'Cause I can't let go

I can't take no more

Boy, I want you so

No, I can't let go

I can't take no more

And I want you soOne, two, three, fourYou're the one who's creeping

Rough love's so deceiving

I said never again but here we are

I'm your current sweetness

You're my only weakness

I said never again but here we are You're the one who's creeping

Rough love's so deceiving

I said never again but here we are

I'm your current sweetness

You're my only weakness

I said never again but here we areI said never again, I said never again

I said never again but here we are

Never again, never again

I told you never to play that new guitar
