Ballad

Embodyment

Drench me in kisses
Your breath consumes my pores, leave my heart in one
I swallow sunsets day by day, media makes me ill
Previous desires have been slain 'cause all I want is youYour presence makes me child
Like my soul's at heaven's gate
My curfew turns to stone, this repetition kills me
Oh, please don't scorch my heartI'm at a loss for words
Please let this rose speak for me
I love you, I need you, I want you
You give me strength to liveI feel like I'm ten feet tall
Forget thoughts of closure, an addict for your love
A diamond is forever as well my love for you
Your face invades my dreams, please be my wife
