

Could You Lie

Alison Krauss

Go on and lie I've heard it all before, you had no shame
This pain I feel you've never known
The rain outside is shifting in the wind
The road is looking lonelier, alone again If love is real, then love goes on and on
The words you say condemn you as the guilty one
I guess you're not the kind you claim to be Always looking out to get your love for free Could you lie and say you love me just a little?
One more wrong will keep us one more night
When quiet fades at the light of day
I see the truth, it's on your face again When morning breaks my heart won't understand
I've spend a lifetime raising houses on the sand
The rain outside is shifting in the wind
The road is looking lonelier, alone again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>