Cold Nights

Plaitum

on these cold nights the silence never helps it's just a wake up call, a wake up fall and i should've braced myself but what fun would that have been i would have missed out on feeling but i'm not gonna let this faze me i've learned the beauty of letting go and i'm letting you know [chorus]
that it's alright i'm right her for you forever on these cold nights i'm right here for you forever on these cold nights i wonder how you make it through does he hold you, and does he need you like i do when you finally find yourself will you have the strength to say i feel you and god i need you but i'm not gonna let this phase me cause i've learned the beauty of letting go but i'm still letting you know [chorus]
i'm not gonna let this phase me [x3] i've learned the beauty of letting go i'm letting you know [chorus]
