

The Power

Manowar

I've got the power to fly into the wind
The power to be free to die and live again
This power's like fire, fire loves to burn
Make the world a grave of ashes in an urn
The power in the darkness to see without my sight
Walk up on the living free of wrong and right
The power of the magic, the power of the spell
Not to serve in heaven but one day rule in hellPower

PowerThis power's greater than love and of hate
This is the power of will and of fate
The power to kill, the power to feel
The power of blood, the triumph of steel
Greater than the power of a priest or a sinner
The power to defy, to fight and be the winner
The power of the demons spirits I command
Always by my side to serve the Master's planPower

AahNone can fight the power, none can fight the wind

Secrets of all life and death are carried there within

Call out to the power of darkness and light

Have dominion of the earth, be lord of all the night

Kill all those who stand against you, look into their eyes

Drink their blood and laugh as they pay for all their lies

(Hee haa haa haa haa haa haa haa)

Piss upon their grave, then cast a final spell

Fly into the night and one day meet in hell
