It's All In Your Head

Diamond Rio

Momma died young giving birth to a son in a home for wayward girls

Daddy was sidewalk, soapbox preacher

Looking forward to the end of the world

Every Friday night he'd pick a Jesus fight down at the local pool hall

Racking up souls condemning all those caught behind the eight ballHe said, I preach for the light, the light shows the way

Don't ever trust what the government say

We never walked on the moon, Elvis ain't dead

You ain't going crazy it's all in your headLucy was a messed up, dressed up waitress

With a slightly tarnished heart of gold

She wasn't half bad for a new step momma as far as step mamma's go

Daddy knew she was the one as he baked in the sun

In a parking lot preaching the truth

Up shot her hand and she cried, oh, man I feel it, yes, I feel it I doIt's been revealed to me down deep in my soul

There were two shooters on the grassy knoll

We never walked on the moon Elvis ain't dead

You ain't going crazy it's all in your head

Let us singIt's all interpretation

To find the truth you gotta read between the lines

Work out your own salvation that narrow path is hard to define

Heaven's more than a place it's a state of mindIn his quest for truth daddy was moved by the spirit

To take up a snake

In a moment of doubt the venom turned out stronger than daddy's faithBut I'll never forget his dying breath the last words that he said

We never walked on the moon, Elvis ain't dead

You ain't going crazy it's all in your head

Let me tell yalt's all interpretation

To find the truth you gotta read between the lines

Work out your own salvation that narrow path is had to define

Heaven's more than a place it's a state of mind

State of mind
