You Were My Light

Edgar Winter

You were my light
Ever since the first day
That I met you
I knew that I could not forget youAnd though all your friends said
You are no good for me
All they had to give
Was their sympathyThey say I'm not the man
That I used to be
I guess that's the way
That it had to be'Cause you were my light
My wrong and my right
You were my sight
My day and my nightYou are the one who took the time
To understand
Showed me what it was
To be your manAnd lord knows if I hurt you
I hope you understood
That I was just trying to do
What I thought was goodYou say I'm not the man
That I used to be
I guess that's the way
That it had to beYou were my light
My wrong and my right
You were my sight
My day and my nightNow that your memory
Begins to fade
I can't help a crying
Bout the games we playedAnd though I never, never See your face again
No I feel the same
Right to beginYou say I'm not the man
That I used to be
I guess that's the way
That it had to beYou were my light
My wrong and my right
You were my sight
My day and my night

Songwriters

EDGAR WINTERPublished by Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/