

Words

Sara Evans

Words like: Hey, nice to meet you
Got us walking down the street to grab a drink
And words like: Tell me about your family
Got us falling, got us landing in a tree
Oh, and words took us all the way from kissing
In a park and lot to missing
Everything we used to be Say the words and I'll be gone
Turn our perfect lights into another sad song
I won't keep you here
Keep holding on to what we were
Just say the words
Words, well they sure are confusing
Like when we started using them
Just bullets in a fight
Oh, and words like: Did you ever love me?
Well, they pushed you and they shoved me to the edge of goodbye Just say the words and I'll be gone
Turn our perfect lights to another sad song
I won't keep you here
Keep holding on to what we were
Just say the words Like bitter poison dripping off your tongue
Pour the thread and watch the story come undone
Just say the words and I'll be gone
Turn our perfect lights into another sad song
I won't keep you here
Keep holding on to what we were
Just say the words Maybe words like: I'm sorry and I need you
Would have been enough to keep you from walking out
Is it too late to say 'em now?
