

Way to Go

Empire of the Sun

Surfing snow

Are you ready for

A revolution to show the way

Seven whole weeks until the day Because heartbreak's coming to bend us the wrong way

Plays us, memory will change it into old things Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go

This is where we get carried away enough to start again While hearts beat

It's nothing like before

Dreaming is the home of the brave

Future is the healing of pain Because heartbreak's coming to bend us the wrong way

Plays us, memory will change it into old things Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go

This is where we get carried away enough to start again

Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go

This is where we get carried away enough to start again Like a cannonball shot across the floor

We have found a way through the darkest hour

Like a cannonball shot across the floor

We have little time for worry Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go

This is where we get carried away enough to start again

Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go

This is where we get carried away enough to start again

Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go

This is where we get carried away enough to start again
