

Touch You If I Could (Shout)

Justin Timberlake

No no
Forever you told me
I'm the only who was in your heart
So beautiful how you whisper
We would never be apart
And now things are changing
I can see the way you look at me
They say that the eyes are The windows to the soul
So I found out yours is just skin deep
Why didn't I see you coming?
Now there's a vision where you stood
And I would touch you if I could
But your lips keep sayin, What your heart will never do
Someone tell me how can a girl as fine as you be so cold
And treat me like you do?
I'm still lost in your every move
It's just too bad that you're no good
(Just don't tell that you love me
I know that it's just not true)
No
(You gotta give it to me
Cuz you've got me . . .)
What the hell a man's to do?
Seduction at its finest
Has stripped away all of my dignity
So beautiful
How you whisper
(Nothing could come between you and me?)
No I never imagined myself
In this state of mind
I'm stuck between a dream and nightmare
Where the passion has driven me blind
Why didn't I see you coming?
