Born To Love You

Mark Collie

Some people go through life
Never knowing why they're here
They never find someone like youThe moment I touched your hand
And looked into your eyes
I knew what I was meant to doI was born to love you
I was born to love you
I was born to love you
Till the day I dieSometimes when I'm holding you
It feels just like a dream
And fear cuts through me
Like a nightIf I should wake up
What would I do
If you weren't laying by my sideI was born to love you
I was born to love you
I was born to love you
Till the day I dieI was born to love you
Till the day I dieI was born to love you
I was born to love you
I was born to love you
Till the day I die
