Nothing New

Funker Vogt

Look at the all the politicians everyone is telling lies they always make promises which never will be fulfulledyou can look to the left you can look to the right in the end there's no difference who has got the powerchanging the point of view promising a better nation
this is nothing new just a cosmetic alterationalways in search of skeletons to hide their own faults there is no more time left to do their real worktry to avoiding radicals they are so narrow-minded they only fight for their aim don't take care for other thingschanging the point of view
just a cosmetic alteration
