Echoplex

Nine Inch Nails

nice and high and far apart just like they said i built this place with broken parts
just like they said
you chip away the old version of you you'd be surprised at what you can do i'm safe in here irrelevant
just like they said
my voice just echoes off these walls you feel me breathe i am watching you

i see it all the many ways you can't get to me
i see it all
i see the hell you put yourself through oh the things i could do (if i wanted to)
my voice just echoes off these walls
i don't need anything at all
my voice just echoes off these walls and i just slowly fade away you will never ever get to me in here
