Manhattan Island Serenade

Leon Russell

Sitting on a highway in a broken van
Thinking of you again
Guess I'll have to hitchhike to the station
With every step I see your face

Like a mirror lookin' back at me
Saying you're the only one
Makin' me feel I could survive
And so glad to be alive

Chorus
Nowhere to run, and not a guitar to play
Messed up inside and it's been rainin' all day
Since you went away
Manhattan Island serenade

Sitting on a highway in a broken van,
Thinking of you again
Guess I'll have to hitchhike down the highway,
With every step I see your face

Like a mirror lookin' back at me
Saying you're the only one
Makin' me feel I could survive
And so glad to be alive

Chorus
Nowhere to run, and not a guitar to play
Messed up inside and it's been rainin' all day
Since you went away
Manhattan Island serenade

Since you went away
Manhattan Island serenade

Lyrics submitted by Scott.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/