Waiting to Die

Biohazard

Drug infested, narcotic, electric, schizophrenic
Murderer arrested, a child molested, a race detested
A building burnt down, insurance invested
Homelessness lingers all around
Rape, death, sickness, homeward bound
Unemployed, no love, no joy, cut down to size, a life destroyedWar, no peace, death, tragedy
No cure disease, AIDS, leprosy
A veteran dead below the knee
Eyes burn in your head, you cannot seeSpending all my time just standing in line
And I'm waiting, waiting to die
I'm watching every day of my life go by
Just waiting, waiting to die
Spending all my time just standing in line
And I'm waiting, waiting to die
I'm watching every day of my life go by
Just waiting, waiting to dieChildren beaten, poisons eaten
Look at the world, we're self-defeating
Reputed, undisputedly polluted
Crack heads with guns ain't afraid to shoot it
Countries fighting for oil and gold
While the hole in the ozone layer out of controlBrother kills brother in a world full of hate
Too fucking late, our head's on a plate
Nature's dying, children crying
Human race ass in a fucking pan frying
With no one to blame except ourselves
Greed transforms our earth into hellSpending all my time just standing in line
And I'm waiting, waiting to die
I'm watching every day of my life go by
Just waiting, waiting to die
Spending all my time just standing in line
And I'm waiting, waiting to die
I'm watching every day of my life go by
Just waiting, waiting to dieMurder
Waiting to dieMurder, Middle East assassination
Extermination, human termination
The war on drugs, humiliation
A ruined nation with no explanation
Something to hide, bound and gagged and tied
A gun in your hand at your head, suicide

It's censorship of my pure mind
No justice, no truce, no hope to findSpending all my time just standing in line
And I'm waiting, waiting to die
I'm watching every day of my life go by
Just waiting, waiting to die
Spending all my time just standing in line
And I'm waiting, waiting to die
I'm watching every day of my life go by
Just waiting, waiting to die
