Separated

Pulley

Here you are in the back again
You whispered something to a friend
Plays the songs, their his very own
Walk away, you're all aloneSeparated, it's hard for you, separatedWasting time like you only can
There's much to say, here you are again
Whoever's listening this time around
Seem to doubt about your soundWhat's at home, who's life you live?
When someone asks, you never give
What you have nobody wants
No self esteem, it's your own faultNo one turned me on this time
Turned me on this time, separatedHere we are in the back again
You're whispering to that same old friend
Plays the songs, their his very own
Walk away, you're all aloneNo one turned me on this time
No one turned me on this time
