Love After War

Robin Thicke

Love After War
Love After War
Love After War...

Oooh it's a knock-out baby, you want the fight
I said I'm sorry that I acted like a selfish child
Please forgive baby, I was out of line
You know I can make it right
Don't you love it when we fight...

Love After War
I need you tonight baby
Love After War
Come on and let me make it right
Love After War
I'm knockin on your door
Love After War
You know I want, you know I want that...

Cuddle up, doors, clap,
Door slams and broken lights
Bottles at the TV screen
You got to go, or I'm gonna leave
Throwing closing to the yard
When we go we go so hard
It only makes me want you more, more, more...

Love After War
I need you tonight baby
Love After War
Come on and let me make it right
Love After War
I'm knockin on your door
Love After War...

You know I want...

Don't you leave
That's all we need...

Love After War
I just wanna love you lady
Love After War
Wanna put down our weapons baby
Love After War
Lay it cause down on the floor
Love After War
And give me some love after war..

Love After War
You know it's gonna be your night baby
Love After War
You know the way that we fight
Love After War
Just drink this glass of wine
Love After War
And you'll remember you're mine
Love After War
Remember you're mine babe, you're mine baby
Love After War
Come on and let me in
Love After War
Let me let me in
Love After War
You know I want it, you know I want you baby...

You know I want you baby
You know I want you baby...
