

Finding My Place (Phase II)

Pulse Ultra

Sometime soon I think I'll find my place
Never fit into the mold I was given
But am I too afraid to find out what I am?
Or is there something in
My way that I don't know about? Sorry if I failed you, I don't know me
I won't know my face so find me my place I don't want us to end our lives
In the confines of a cubicle so sterile
But who am I to say what you consider bliss?
But I'm just warning you that
All the straps will hold you down Sorry if I failed you, I don't know me
I won't know my face so find me my place Can't you see that I don't share or care for
The dreams you have? The dreams you have for me Sorry if I failed you, I don't know me
I won't know my face so find me my place Sorry if I failed you, I don't know me
I won't know my face so find me my place
