

Go

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Go alone, no time to wait
Go home, say I'll be late again
To fix some shit
I didn't have shit to do with
Go, stay low, face what I've done
Come home to see
I'm all alone, cold TV meals
I must admit that it feels like fatal frames
Shoulda shown me then
What would happen
Way too late
To turn back now After all these travels
I'm stuck with some adventurous memories
Precious to someone
Someone else but not to me
Wish I could light'em on fire
Watch the ashes fly away
Maybe I should retire
But that'll be another day So it's time that passed me by I'm trying to erase the past, make good things last
But sooner or later you gotta cut me down Wish I could light'em on fire
Watch the ashes fly away
Maybe I should retire
But that'll be another day An Indian rupee, an Australian dollar
All the currency in the world couldn't make me bother
All the weight could bring me down
Would have to give it away
Cuz now i gotta go skip town After these travels
I'm stuck with some adventurous memories
Precious to someone
Someone else but not to me
Wish I could light'em on fire

Watch the ashes fly away
Maybe I should retire
But that'll be another day
That'll be another day
