Why Do You Cry?

At Vance

Maybe I was wrong
I said too many things that I should have left unspoken
But where do you belong
There are so many reasons to hold on what we?ve gotSo why should I pay the price
And why should I roll the dice
Deep inside I feel the shame
You name the pain and thats the shameSo why do you cry
I gave you my heart but you denied
So please tell me why
You're throwing our love away tonight
So why do you cryNow you're standing in the cold
And the tears you cry will turn the ice into stone
Enlight the candle cries the flame in my hand
Just to make you see the things that you have doneSo why should I pay the price
And why should I roll the dice
Deep inside I feel the pain
But you're the only one to blameSo why do you cry
I gave you my heart but you denied
So please tell me why
You're throwing our love away tonight
So why do you cry
