Waste Another Day

Brooke Fraser

Don't you say it's too early
Baby I don't wanna waste the day
When we've everything on our side
And nothing in our way
We can do what we wanna
'Cos today the world is ours
Nothing gray, just real time and colour
In which to whittle away the hours
We could speak 'til nothing's left unspoken
We could drive 'til we've run out of road
We could drink 'til we've emptied the ocean
But I'd be happy here
Happy just to hold you
[Chorus]'Til the suns and planets disappear
I could stay in your arms all year
Even if that means infinity through
If being productive is being with you
Then baby I don't want to waste another day
I'll shout aloud what I'm feeling

Let my tongue be still no more
Now I know that it's the real thing
Just try and keep me quiet about it
Oh...
'Cos we could stare until we both are blinded
We could fall 'til gravity gets tired
We could lose our love just to re-find it
But I'm just happy here
Happy staying beside you
'Til the suns and planets disappear
I could stay in your arms all year
Even if that means infinity through
If being productive is being with you
Then baby I don't want to waste...
'Til the suns and planets disappear
I could stay in your arms all those years
Even if that means infinity through
If being productive is being with you
Then baby I don't want to waste another day
