Campfire

Bear Vs. Shark

The countryside is being eaten by the very structure that we lean on love letters for bonfires and campfire songs for city children nowhere to run distance ourselves by the balanced crops of thought till the field
you were never there the oceanside is being torn down by the countless drops of blackness feeding filtration for the domestication of diseases you'll lose your balance on this rope broncos with cavalry bringing me home
