It's Not Enough

Screeching Weasel

things are getting worse it's not working out everyuthing is coming up upside down nothing ever changes it's a stupid waste and i give up it's not enough people say tomorrow's another day if that's true why does it all feel the same if there is a point i can't figure it out and all i know's it's not enough what can you do when the sun just won't come out anymore and all you know and all you've got is not enough things were terrible today and yuesterday i guess tomorrow will be more of the same why's the third verse different than the first and second well i guess it's not enough it's true that i won't always feel this way i won't forever it's true that i'll never change that i'll be this way forever and ever but i'll be fine someday yea i'll be fine someday things are getting worse it's not working out everything is coming up upside down nothing ever changes it's a
