The Pains of Being Pure At Heart

what to do nothing new we tried each other let's try anotherwhen you came through the door
I felt everything and nothing that I had beforetell yourself it's not yourself
but no one else
can make me know there's no one elsethen you came through the door
I was sure you never even felt the floorI know it is wrong
but we just don't belong
in your eyes
in the sun
no we just don't belongchange your mind and stop the time
that comes between us that bends beneath usif you're mine I don't mind
we tried another
let's try each otherI know
but we just don't belong
in the sun
no we just don't belongin hospitals in shopping malls
with heavy heads
and locker wallsan empty street at three a.m.
you told me you're not one of themwe took a vow to never sleep
while there was still air left to breatheAnd you're the same so slightly strange
among the fakes you knew the painsI know

in the sun
no we just don't belong I know
no we just don't belong we just don't belong we just don't belong
don't belong
don't belong
don't belong
don't belong
don't belong
don't belong
