Saved

Bauhaus

You're entering a pearl corridor Ending on your crimson spot E become unconscious, savedAnd just pursuing spirograph With the zahra universes Hung in middle space That i promise to be youBut was no such thing I was saved, saved, savedOoh, oohThe world does not lie The place of paradise The people, the people lie The people lieOne with your body You are walking peace What if things do not part What if things do not partPart, ooh, oohSaved, savedYou're entering a pearl corridor Lying on your crimson spot I become unconscious Saved, saved, saved, saved....
