

Am I Still the One? (With Linda Perry)

Daniel Powter

I don't get much from heroes
I don't give them much thought
I crumble under pressure
And may you still have love I don't like my reflection
I don't like what I see
I'm scared of my own shadow
You cast this doubt on me But am I still the one?
Am I still the one?
Am I still the one? Yeah I was staring in the shadow
Just to understand your pain
But when I needed you the most
You looked the other way I wanted you to comfort me
In the moment we'd begun
I loved you through your nothingness
Am I still the one? You're coming through the windows
You're crawling through the floor
You sent the spies to find me
Now they're kicking down my door But am I still the one?
Am I still the one?
Am I still the one? Yeah I was staring in the shadow
Just to understand your pain
But when I needed you the most
You looked the other way There's nothing left but emptiness
It's all been said and done
I know you want me to believe
That I'm still the one So long to the angel!
You got me all wrong Tell me that you'll never leave me again
Are you sorry?
Tell me that you'll never leave me again
Are you sorry? Tell me that you'll never leave me again
Sorry
Tell me that you'll never leave me again
Sorry Tell me that you'll never leave me again
Sorry
Tell me that you'll never leave me again

Songwriters
Daniel Powter Published by
SONG 6 MUSIC

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>