

Can't Bring Myself to Light This Fuse

Rock Star Supernova

This is the first time that I've written out your name
This is the last time that I'll ever feel the same
Maybe I said too much but I don't care
You're acting still like I'm not there
Run, but you can't hide, fall, but on whose side I'm broken, so deadly, you're just the one to fix it
You're calling, it's early, that feeling, God I miss it
Don't want to live without, don't want to sit this out
Don't want to know if it's the last time I'll breathe you in Every word just turns a fire that you say
All I can do is light the fuse and walk away
But even I can't do that, I still back down
There's comfort in the silent ground
Run, but I can't hide, fall, but on her side I'm broken, so deadly, you're just the one to fix it
You're calling, it's early, that feeling, God I miss it
Don't want to live without, don't want to sit this out
Don't want to know if it's the last time I'll breathe you in I'm broken, so deadly, you're just the one to fix it
I'm calling, it's early, that feeling, God I miss it
Don't want to live without, don't want to sit this out
Don't want to know if it's the last time I'll breathe you in I'm broken, so deadly, you're just the one to fix it
I'm broken, so deadly, you're just the one to fix it
You're calling, it's early, that feeling, God I miss it
Don't want to know if it's the last time I'll breathe you in
