

Norman

Elizabeth McMahon

Norman the gambler
Rides around in a rambler
Diamonds and pearls in the backOccupation, house master
He lives off the less
Running from the east to the westOh, let me tell you more
Norman never lose, always wins
Yet Norman never give a way bit
If you ask for a less he said he wants moreNorman the gambler
Rides around in a rambler
With pretty girls in the backHe always sets the pack
Norman always jumps a jack
Every hand that he shows
Is a flush or straightLet me tell you more
Norman never lose, always wins
Yet Norman never give a way bit
If you ask him for a less he said he wants moreHe always sets the pack
Norman always jumps the jack
YeahNorman the gambler
Rides around in a rambler
With pretty girls in the backOccupation, house master
He lives off the less
If you ask him for a less he said he wants moreBut let me tell you so
Norman never lose, always wins
Yet Norman never give a way bit
If you ask him for a less he said he wants moreLet me tell you so
He always sets the pack, Norman always jumps the jack
And every hand that he show
Is a flush or straightAh, do you hear?
Norman the gambler
Rides around in a rambler
Diamonds and pearls in the backOccupation, house master
Who lives off the less
Running from the east to the westAh, let me tell you so
Norman never lose, always wins
Yet Norman never give a way bit
If you ask for a less, he said he wants more
More, moreAh do you hear?
He always sets the pack
Norman always jumps a jack

And every hand that he show is a flush or straight
Enjoy your trees, jumping jack
