I've been freezing my time
I've been slowing my breath
I've been saving my soul
I want you to freeze tooAre you haunting me again?
Are you thawing out my head?
I want you to get outI'm on an ocean that has a brain and makes us dream
I'm on a mission to wipe imagination clean
You grow inside me, dying time and time again
I'm on a mission to escape from what my life has beenI've been hiding in snow
I've been treading on ghostsAre you haunting me again?
Are you burning up my head?
I will never solve algebra of need
Any thought just might
Turn to flesh and drag me back to lifeI'm on an ocean that has a brain and makes us dream
I'm on a mission to wipe imagination clean
You grow inside me, dying time and time again
I'm on a mission to escape from what my life has been without youTo escape my life without you
To escape my life without you
To escape my life without you
To escape my life without youTo escape from what my life has been
