You

PFR

You thought You could reach the sky
Never knew it was much too high
You believed that You could change
The world with love, yeah love, how strangeEvery war that You fought was not in vain
If someone's set free
Every scar You've endured, every bit of pain
Has left its mark on meThose You've touched can't stay the same
Now the angels say Your nameEvery war that You fought was not in vain
If someone's set free
Every scar You've endured, every bit of pain
Has left its mark on meEvery war that You fought was not in vain
If someone's set free
Every scar You've endured, every bit of pain
Has left its mark on me, has left its mark on me
