

Heaven Knows

Gloria Loring

I never knew the heart of you, you did not let me see
We filled our time with summer wine and sensuality
And then one day I sailed away
When summer's time had past
If I had found some firmer ground, I would have held on fast

And Heaven knows the way it goes
The way it's always been
We wander on
When all the while, the answer lies within

And I think of you then and now
Of how destiny won't allow
One more roll of the dice
For once to be twice somehow

And Heaven knows the way it goes
The way it's always been
We wander on
When all the while ,the answer lies within

And when it seems my deeper dreams
Will never come to light
I then recall the rise and fall of every urgent flight
Though darker skies and clearer eyes may lead me to and fro
I finally see the heart of me
Is all I'll ever need to know

And Heaven knows the way it goes
The way it's always been
We wander on
When all the while the answer lies within
