Falling

Finley Quaye

Forgiving and forgetting is best
Tried to forgive but I could not forget
And I found myself
Falling, for you againFeel like I've been down this lonely track before
It's like a little deja vu but a little bit more
Falling, for you againWhere was I when you say bye bye
Hold up my heart who say man don't cry?
Because I became close today, sister you got me
Falling, for you again, tried to hold back but I could only hold on
To a feeling, mmm all over your feet
These wandering emotions got me
Falling, got you againSolitude, solitude setting
Solitude, solitude setting
Solitude
