Not Waiting

A.Tone Da Priest

[Hook]
Im not waiting for your ignorance
The way you walk and talk and live your life in bliss
And if you think that makes you innocent
Youre not right (2x)
[Verse 1]
Nothings wrong, isnt it odd, youre the only one whos not Frustrated, aggravated, shit it seems that you forgot
That youre not an angel a stranger to good
But you act as if youre innocent, I think you really should Check reality, I know youre not delusional
But your actions continue to dictate this conclusion all
Smiles when the world is crumbling down
When you know you caused the frowns
But you switch the blame around and youre the victim I can count
On it, your basis fount on fabrication
Of truth so uncouth responsibility evasion
Creating this frustration, you lowering the morals
You wouldnt fight for me, but for you Id go to world wars
My heart is sorer then when I met you desensitized
By injustice, I see the evil looming in your eyes
Tearless cries, heart aches, pain is so demanding
I cant grasps your reckless ways or your lack of understanding
[Verse 2]
Im not waiting for the tears to fall, saw it but you pay no mind
If its not bout you, youre the first to turn an eye thats blind
All that Im to you is just another voice complaining
When you brought me the cries, locked all this pain in What goes through your brain when, you disregard the truth
Is it insanity, you stay denying even with proof
Never knew a devil could have a face like that
Just a beautiful liar, the dreams you set on fire
This distrust you breed inside ya, make the hold world feel your wrath
When you stabbing backs in mass youre the only one who laughs
How do you forget the past, when all you are is what became of it
How do you sleep at night, in your dreams do you take the blame for shit
This anger that you cause, make me pause and wonder why I deal
With the villain I depart, but cant help wonder how you feel [Bridge]

Im not waiting for the lies you tell / because I know you now oh so well
And if you this a smile will keep you from this hell, you not right
All the wrong youve done and all your sin / that you kept hidden underneath that grin
Its time to pay now no, you just can win, its been fun
