

Loving Every Minute

Mark Wills

I was never really breathing
My heart was never really beating
Till you held me in your arms
And every love that didn't last
Every second of my past
Simply disappeared into the dark

[chorus]

And with that first kiss I felt my life beginning
And the clock just froze
And the world stopped spinning
Now the magic of that moment is neverending
You made time stand still
And I'm loving every minute

It's the need that never changes
A passion that is ageless
It consumes me like it did when it was new
You have lead me to a place where every day's the same
And I'm always falling more in love with you

[repeat chorus twice]

Oh, and I'm loving every minute
Oh, loving you baby
