Never Together (But Close Sometimes)

Jonathan Edwards

There's a song in your eye that's as blue as the sky and just looking at you keeps me singing it there's this music and wine don't it sparkle and shine and it's one for your money and two to quit

And every day it's getting less hard to be never together but close sometimes
windows and rain
blue birds and planes
they're never together but they're close sometimes

A girl in New York once captured my heart but her winter was cold so I had to split Sweet Tennessee spoke softly to me Home is your home when you're loving it.

And every day it's getting less hard to be
never together but close sometimes
windows and rain
blue birds and planes
they're never together but they're close sometimes

There's life in these bars when you make believe stars people and loneliness passing time a world full of fools sitting glued to that stool drowning their sadness in rosey wine

And every day it's getting less hard to be
never together but close sometimes
windows and rain
blue birds and planes
never together but they're close sometimes
