Swimming in Circles

Cop Shoot Cop

Swimming in circles
Undercurrent calling me home
Vision is dimming
Are you going to swallow me whole
Are you going to swallow my soul
Wrap me in your cool green arms
Surround me with your sympathy
Voices are memories
It's the silence that's killing meI want to feel your gentle caress
Will you show me your depth
'Cause I'm swimming in circles'Cause I've tried so hard to be good since you been gone
But everything seems to take so long
And I've tried so hard to be good
But every little lie I told is heavy like a sack of gold
And it's pushing me down, pulling me down
Every little lie I told keeps dragging me downI had a dream when I was a child
I still remember it now
A machine I could not understand
Made a terrible sound, a terrible sound
Now I'm falling asleep
In the arms of the deep
Drowning in your eyes'Cause I've tried so hard to be good
But every little lie I told is heavy like another stone
And it's dragging me down, pulling me down, pushing me down, dragging me down
Every little lie I told keeps dragging me downNow I'm falling asleep
In the arms of the deep
And I'm drowning in your eyes
