

Heaven

The Willis Clan

Change is in the air everyone prepare
I see it the way you're standing there you believe in fate
never one to wait
no one ever knows till it's too late

I have learned to see you're no guarantee

fair weather love
you will come and you'll grow in troubled times
no surprise that I don't know come with the shine
you'll be mine until the snow
fair weather love
you will fade before you go

standing in the sun heaven's just begun never would you ever turn to run but you're about to go you wonder how I know a stormy day will make your colors show it won't be long before you won't want me anymore

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>