

West

Bone Dance

Come out West and see
    Best that could be
    And all you want stay permanently
Come out West and seeNow climb up on a rock
    And stretch out in the sun
    And close my eyes and let
    Imagination runAnd tracing your initials
        In the shining sand
        I'm counting out the days
Till I see you againWho knows what the future holds
    Or where the corns may fall
    But if you don't come out West and see
    You'll never know at allI look off in the distance
        Blow a kiss away
        A thousand miles between us
    Disappears from thereI watch as all the starlings
        Flying from the north
        The beating of their wings
There goes the beating of my heartI sleep out in the desert
    Under the stars above
    And keep making an effort
To wonder in your loveWho knows what the future holds
    Or where the corns may fall
    But if you don't come out West and see
    You'll never know at allCome out West and see
        The best that it could be
        And all you want stay permanently
        Come out West and see
