

New Day

Green River Ordinance

In the city that never sleeps,
Restless hearts are moving through the beat
Trying to find out who we trying to be
Nowhere to go
Man on the corner asking for some change
Several arms are reaching for a way
So many times you know I feel the same
Nowhere to go

Whoa, yeah I need a hallelujah
I said, whoa,
Whoa, yeah I need a hallelujah
There's an ocean inside us all
A little bit of grace to break my fall
I need your time oh brother won't you come and help me out

Whoa, yeah I need hallelujah
I said, whoa,
Whoa, yeah I need a hallelujah

When you walk through the fire just open your eyes to see
Every good heart is going to need somebody, to take it away
Every good line in a lovers tune, caught in the pain
Yesterday has gone away
You're waiting on a new day

Every good heart is going to need somebody, to take it away
Every good line in a lovers tune, caught in the pain
Yesterday has gone away
You're waiting on a new day
You're waiting on a new day

No, well I'm still waiting,
No, well I'm still waiting oh

Every good heart is going to need somebody, to take it away
Every good line in a lovers tune, caught in the pain
Yesterday has gone away

You're waiting on a new day

Every good heart is going to need somebody, to take it away

Every good line in a lovers tune, caught in the pain

Yesterday has gone away

You're waiting on a new day
