Rain

Fool's Garden

The night was cold, no lights to see I could not figure out what's wrong i'd lost the ground beneath my feet
The air was dry ,the road was long
So LongToo many thoughts were in in my head Could you hear me ?
could not get out until you said :
Can you feel me ? "
You touched my face and said : it's good "
What i needed
At least i found in here you should Never Stopthis rain
Was different this morning when you came
It washed away the sorrow and the pain
Now Happiness is running through my veins Since you cameThe angels kissed the way we go
I can feel it
You hold my hand and let me know
That you healed it My broken heart is dead and gone
could you hear me ?
you made me feel myself again never Stopthis rain
Was different this morning when you came
It washed away the sorrow and the pain
Now Happiness is running through my veinsYesterday my life walked off that last lonely train
I was down and out , didn't know that i just neededrain
Was different this morning when you came

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/