Undeserving

Suffocation

A lifetime of misdeeds has lead you to me
you've made your last mistake.
This time you won't get away.[Solo: Hobbs]I'll see to it that these are you last breaths, and strip the life with my bare hands.
You never saw me coming, now I've got you
It's gone on too long, this time it ends.And now I'm to take your life, and still this will not rectify what have you down.
What have you done?
To torture the soul, undeserving seems to be the only way, to solve your unjust waysA lifetime of misdeeds has lead you to me
you've made your last mistake.
This time you won't get away.You never saw me coming,
now I've got you
Now that I have you, I'll do as I please staring into me while these hands grip around your throat Your life flashing before you, how could this have happened?
I clench, tighter and tighter, Staring into your blood filled eyes.
I know what you want to say, but I care not to hearYou cannot undo what you've done, this is forever. Theres no going back, you did this to yourself, through a life mis-lived and no one can save you nowHolding on, tightly gripped Realize that this is my last resort latched on to what is worthless it ends here and nowWhat can you possibly be thinking?
As these eyes stare into yours...
Is this happening to me?

Here and now?
Undeserving.
