

Running Out Of Ink

Barenaked Ladies

I stopped into a club
I thought I'd see a show
Everyone was there
At least everyone I knowTheir knickers in a knot
Their hands up on the heart
The best I'd ever seen
The greatest book of art
I wish that it was meIt's bleaker than you think
I'm running out of ink
Give a guy a break
This is what it takes
To drive a man to drinkA party at a friend's
Toronto's coolest scene
I thought I'd bring a tape
To show them where I'd beenAnd listen for a while
The lyrics made them smile
They said that it was fine
Although it's not the style
I said it wasn't meOnce upon a time
I couldn't get enough
Until I made it big
And that's when it got roughDisappointed now
Perhaps a bit surprised
To look them in the face
And see it in their eyes
They wish it wasn't meIt's bleaker than you think
I'm running out of ink
Give a guy a break
This is what it takes
To drive a man to drinkI used to hold you close
You used to tell me things
You never told a soul
But then you heard me singThe details of your life
Condensed into a song
The neighbor and his wife
Work out and sing along
And you can't look at meIt's bleaker than you think
I'm running out of ink
Give a guy a break

And this is what it takes
To drive a man to drink
Could song be an alibi?
A lyric replacement for falling in love
But now that the well is dry
I can't understand
What I've been singing of
Do you know
What it is to love?
To really love?
To really love?
Really love, do I?
I cycled by your house
I saw you on the lawn
I see you all the time
And now that you are gone
I tried to call your name
But something made me stop
I call you once a day
Until you call the cops
And told them it was me
I filled a plastic bag
With everything I wrote
And threw it off a bridge
I thought that it would float
The water made it sink
The bag is bleeding ink
I wish that I could swim
I wish that I could drink
I wish that it was me
It's bleaker than you think
I'm running out of ink
And give a guy a break
This is what it takes
To drive a man to drink
I'm running out of ink
And give a guy a break
This is what it takes
To drive a man to drink
To drive a man to drink
To drive a man to drink

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>