

Nothing Left To Say

Mint Condition

The words so strong
At least at the beginning
Who would've thought
There'd ever be an ending
We had it all
But it's like we've run into a wall Now we try to talk
But just end up fighting
Try making up
But there's just no denying
Jus' ain't the same no more
What are we putting ourselves through all this for You talk and hear me
But you can't communicate
Cause you're not lis'ning
Know these are two different things
Now I see what it means to have been
Blinded by the one you love so deeply
Cause, The very things that make me love you
Are the things pushing me away (now)
In tears we stand here
With nothing left to say And all I could do for you
I should've done before (now)
In tears we stand here
There's nothing left to say You touch'd my heart
And were so givin'
Spirit so free
You threw me in it
I fell so deep
I could not see my life
Without you in it Girl you gave me
A lot of attention
Somehow the feeling turned
Into crazy possessive
It was always there
But I didn't look deeper
If I would've I'da seen the limits You talk and hear me
But you can't communicate
Cause you're not lis'ning
Know these are two different things
Now I see what it means to have been

Blinded by the one you love so deeply I had my pride girl
And you had your pain
So deep inside you
Wanted to have your say
Irritated, frustrated and hurt
This is so confusing
Girl I thought this was the one thing for sure The very things that make me love you
Are the things pushing me away (now)
With nothing left to say And all I could do for you
There's nothing left to say We should have our words
To try and encourage
Us to find a way
Cause there's nothing left to say The very things that make me love you
