

Dancin' Into the Void

Nektar

Water flowing life evolving Weapon making
Burning baking
System user
Real-time abuser
There's no solution
Just evolution
Life was so simple
Had everything we need
And everything was clean
Now there's no stopping
Hang your head in shame
We're dancin' into the void again
Never ending
Patent pending
Endless craving
Widow making
Life was so simple
Had everything we need
And everything was clean
Now there's no question
Hang your head in shame
We're dancin' into the void again
Make your decisions
Put yourself in the queue
Prepare yourself for the move
Now there's no stopping
Just hang your head in shame
We're doncin' into the void again
Lets just draw a picture
Of this world we all live in
There's nothing that you can't erase
Or even pencil in
No self respecting alien
Would give a second glance
Let's face it, it's a hopeless task
We haven't got a chance
So how we gonna market

This old bubble we call ours
When it's battered, bruised, exhausted
And counting down the hours
We could take it off the market
And do some D.I.Y.
But how do you a loin forest
Or mend holes in the sky
Our drains just ain't big enough
To take El Nino
So unless we build a million arks
We'll have nowhere to go
We'll be floatin' on a pond
That'll stretch from there to here
And as long as we keep playing God
We'll have nothing left to lose my friend
But everything to fear
When we're standing there
For the curtain's fall
And the final dance
Is to the void evermore
And you find your star
A million years away
Just remember this
We could have saved it all
