

Summer Weekend of a Lifetime

Cressida

Summer weekend of a lifetime
Brightened up the whole damned year
You and I walk through the treelines
 Both the children followed near
The chteau grounds were warm and sleepy
 But for summer's humming sense
 Snoopy loomed among the bushes
 Hunting down imagined deer
 I felt for you infatuated
 Feelings wakened by the sun
A tenderness I thought was ended and had long since gone
 Just a meeting chanced on walking
 Hoping down that shady park
Thank you for that reawakening, for returning loveJust a meeting chanced on walking
 Hoping down that shady park
 Thank you for that reawakening
 Thank you for returning love... love... love...
