

Come Live the Life

K's Choice

You rush out, it's another day
And pass yourself along the way again
How much longer? And you're keeping up the pace you're in
You feel like crashing into something new
How much longer? If your eyes are the gateway to your soul
What's broken will be whole again
And whole is hard to shatter I'll dive into your eyes
I'm never coming out
Not until we all dissolve into what matters You wanna bury secrets deep inside
But it's too cold a place to hide them all
How much longer? So somewhere in your eyes I see
A wall of fire moving toward me
I'm here If your eyes are the gateway to your soul
What's broken will be whole again
And whole is hard to shatter I'll dive into your eyes
I'm never coming out
Not until we all dissolve into what matters So come on, come on, come on
All is forgiven
So come on, come on
Come live the life you're given If you go out, it's a sunny day
Away, away, away, away
Come on, come on, come on
All is forgiven So come on, come on
Come live the life
So come on, come on, come on
All is forgiven So come on, come on
Come live the life
So come on, come on
Come live the life you're given
